convoying troop snips and merchantemen, patrolling the shipping routes and rescuing survivors of torpedoed ships.

The Americans, therefore, can claim no small part of the credit for the gradual decrease in shipping tons. First of all, the addition of their units to the Allied forces, patrolling as they do an area as large as that bounded roughly by the great V formed by New York, Detroit and Knoxville, was certain to make life less comfortable for the U-boats. Next the American applied all the tactics of the long-experienced British, and in some instances improved on them. All the destroyers added to their equipment depth charges and other devices. Then the crews learned some more about the business of smoke-screening a merchant fleet while they beat off the attacking submarine with gunfire and depth charges. Their gunnery, too, has greatly improved. One crew saw a spar of a sunken ship the other day which they at first thought was a periscope, and shattered it at 2000 yards.

New ideas also have been and are constantly worked out, with a view to rendering the work of the submarine increasingly difficult. Filled with enthusiasm over each new experience had with the enemy, the Americans are not slow to apply a more effective method of dealing with him the next time he shows his head above water. For instance, two officers, working on designs for new destroyers, have introduced many new ideas gained from observations made in this anti-submarine game. Still others have suggested changes in gunfiring. In fact, something new, although not always practicable, is being worked out all the time.

Taxation he said, tends on the other hand to restrict increasing prices, and "it is in harmony with the legislation on and with the desire to curb the cost of living."

ASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Neutral nations, and particularly those in Europe, must be prepared to share even greater privations and burdens made necessary by the war under the decision of the recent Allied conference at London.

Details of the conference are beginning to reach Washington through official channels. They show that the Allies are determined to support their armies in the field by outling off as far as possible all supplies for the German army from neutral sources through a tighten-ing of the blockade.

make public "bad" news as well as "good" news concerning the American naval forces in the war zone. The same policy has been adopted by Secretary of War Baker with respect to the land forces under Gen. Pershing.

It fell to the lot of Secretary Daniels tonight to make the first announcement. He did so, he said with a feeling of thankfulness that the casualties on the destroyer were so light and the vessel was able to make port, where it will be speedily repaired and immediately take its place again on the fighting line.

its place again on the fighting line.

Mr. Daniels tonight sent a telegram of condolence to Mrs. Bettle Ingram, mother of Gunner's Mate Ingram, who was knocked overboard by the force of the explosion when the torpedo struck the destroyer, and whose body was not recovered. This first unwelcome news from the scene of American activities arrived at the close of a day of speculation on the report that Germany is about to proclaim a war zone in American and Cuban waters.

WAR ZONES.

WAR ZONES.

and Cuban waters.

WAR ZONES.

News reports that Germany contemplates declaring a war zone about the United States. Canada and Cuba were flashed out to ships of the fleet by naval radio tonight.

It was explained that these radio dispatches to the fleet were not official messages, but sent as part of the news summary sent vessels of the fleet each night. The commanders of all pairol boats in American waters, however, will serve notice to be on guard for any extension of submarine activities in American waters such as might result from any extension of the war zone.

Naval officials frankly scouted Germany's reported intention of extending the war to American waters. German submarines are now operating with the entire seas a war zone. The officials could see no purpose in a proclamation extending the zone unless it were meant to intimidate neutral shipping.

German submarines could not operate successfully in American waters without a base on this side, naval officials are convinced. It is the business of the American patrol fleet plying between Brazil and Canadian waters to see that there is no such base maintained on the shores of the America's or the adjacent islands, and there is confidence that no such base is possible.

FEASIBILITY.

It is perfectly feasible for

that no such base is possible.

FEASIBILITY.

It is perfectly feasible for German submarines to cross the Atlantic in safety. Naval officials admit this. They recall the exploit of the U-53, which sank several merchant ships off the American coast after making the trip across the Atlantic.

But the navy has received information which convinces it that the U-53 was supplied on this side of the water. And the United States was not at war then, and it stood innocently by while the submarine went about its work, but gave the submarine the courtesies of a visit to Newport. The U-53 was about the size of the American L-boats. There are reports that Germany is building powerful submarines, with great storage capacity, but naval officials doubt these reports. They believe the German submarines range from 500 to 700 tons.

The United States is building 300-ton submarines after abandoning plans to build larger boats. The 800-ton submarines could carry only about eight torpedoes, not enough to carry on any extended operations without replenishment of the supply.

SUMMARY.

Summed up, the view of highest naval officials is that Germany will not attempt to extend its war zone decree to cover American waters; that if Germany planned to send submarines to this side she would make no advance announcement of her purpose; that to send submarines even in numbers to this side without a base on this side would be futile, as the results could not possibly justify the pains, and, finally, with the comprehensive patroling system up and down the coast able to take care of any submarines appearing for a raid, the navy does not care whether Germany attempts it or not. MINIMUM IS ESTABLISHED FOR WAR PENSIONS.

Women Whose Husbands Per-ished in Civil, Spanish or Philip-pine Wars will Receive not Less than Twenty-five Dollars Per Month from Government olo,000 annually to the pension rolls.

Commissioner of Pensions Salizgober today started the work of revising the rolls for all these widows. The payment under the new scale dates from October 6.

Legislation including widows pensions has long been sought by the veteran classes.

When the soldiers' and sailors' bill was first introduced in Congress there was no intention to include in it anything pertaining to the widows or survivors of other wars, the measure being planned to apply only to the men engaged in the war with Germany and their dependents. Senator Smoot, however, who has long been the advocate of increased pensions, selzed the opportunity to force his amendment on the bill. NORWEGIAN VESSEL SUNK, CREW MISSING

AVE YOUR HAIR AND BEAUTIFY IT WITH "DANDERINE"

Spend a few cents; Dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Try this! Hair gets beautiful, wavy and thick in few momnets.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it im-mediately dissolves avery activity of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, of its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents; apply a little as directed, and ten minutes

s little as directed, and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

officials of the County Farm Bureau had received promises from hog raisers that they would have thirty cars of hogs to send to Kansas City on the "hog special" tomorrow. Los Angeles and San Francisco hog buyers today stepped in and bought most of the available stock, making it impossible to ship for another week at least.

The bureau officials are undecided whether to rejoice or be chagrined at this development, for the Coast buyers have boosted the price. Before the special was decided upon the price of grain-fed hogs ranged from 14 to 14% cents. Farmers today received 15% to 15 cents.

However, Robert Allen, a large hog raiser, is determined to ship his hogs east. He refused 16 cents per pound for his stock and today shipped twelve carloads for himself and neighbors to Omaha, where he has been offered 18 cents.

EL CENTRO, Oct. 17.—Surveyors for the Imperial-Laguna Water Company have reached a point three Company have reached a point three miles north of Mecca in projecting the line of the proposed east mesa canal, which is designed to take water from the Laguna dam. It is the assertion of United States. Engineer Richardson that 400,000 acres of land not now under irrigation may be irrigated by the canal.

The canal line runs from the edge of the sandhills at the Mexican line in a northwesterly direction, crossing.

officials of the County Farm Bureau had received promises from hog raisers that they would have thirty cars of hogs to send to Kansas City on the "hog special" tomorrow. Los Angeles and San Francisco hog buyers today stepped in and bought most of the available stock, making it impossible to ship for another week at least.

The bureau officials are undecided whether to rejoice or be chagrined at this development, for the Coast buyers have boosted the price. Before the special was decided upon the price of grain-fed hogs ranged from 14 to 14½ cents. Farmers today received 15½ to 18 cents.

However, Robert Allen, a large hog raiser, is determined to ship his hogs east. He refused 16 cents per pound for his stock and today shipped twelve carloads for himself and neighbors to Omaha, where he has been offered 18 cents.

Negotiations involving two sites, both near Sixth and Hill streets, will be completed within a few days, he said yesterday. The structure will cover a ground area of 100x150 feet; there will be 750 rooms with bath, and the furnishings will be the last word in modern hotel equipment, according to Mr. Holmes.

The building will be twelve stories high, Mr. Holmes states, and will follow the lines of the Biltmore Hotel in New York. The lobby and dining-room also will be unique in hotel construction in the West. When completed, Mr. Holmes declares, it will be the finest hostelry west of the Mississippi. The management has been declded upon and a local hotel man has been selected for the place.

In discussing the deal, Mr. Holmes said that the papers are now ready for his signature. He added that the success of one of his silver mines was the principal factor in inducing him to consider the erection of the hotel. "The plans have been prepared by an eastern architect, and the hotel will be something that will create a sensation in hotel construction in the West," he said.

The City Council has voted to appropriate a large sum of money to provide better quarters for the women at the City Jail. That will help. The men can be sent to the army, the ranches and the rock piles until a new jail is built. By that time it may be decided that the jail is not to be used at all except for the temporary incarceration of prisoners, pending rary incarceration of prisoners, pending ick trials, when they will either be set to the train, when they will either be seen to the work. Something hould be found for the women to do as rell as for the men. They might be put a picking or canning fruit or to sewing or the Red Cross. Anything would be efter than enforced idleness.

That mutiny among the German sail-ors, the significance of which the German government and the German press are at-tempting to minimize, was not such a little thing after all, according to the report of Rudolph Glatfelder, a Social Democrat who escaped to Switzerland and who says that no fewer than 12,000 sailors and ma-rines were involved in the uprising. THE LIBERTY LOAN BILLIONS. To raise fourteen billion dollars by the sale of bonds in recurring installments be-fore July 1, 1918, is the stupendous task with which the Federal government is con-fronted. The problem is not one of cash, but of credit. IT IS THE GREATEST STRAIN EVER PLACED UPON THE CREDIT OF THE NATION: BUT IT IS APPLIED TO A PEOPLE WHOSE MATE-RIAL AND PATRIOTIC ASSETS HAVE NEVER BEEN EQUALED.

The first installment of Liberty Bonds was greatly oversubscribed and, far from weakening the financial credit of the American people, the bank deposits at the end lean people, the bank deposits at the end of that campaign were greater than at the beginning. The campaign for the second installment is now under way. Hon. W. G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, is on the Pacific Coast explaining to western investors the signification and the meaning of the loan. In an address in the Shrine Auditorium Monday night Mr. McAdoo as-serted that "If one single loan offered to the American people should fail it would be a more frightful disaster than the loss of a great battle."

For the purpose of selling these bonds the United States has been divided into districts and the allotment to each district is based upon a percentage of the individ-ual deposits in the banks of those districts. The allotment for the Los Angeles district will be about $300,000,000 for the fiscal that ends June 30, 1918. In order that this allotment may be fully subscribed t will be necessary for the individual credit of the district to be placed behind the purchase of the bonds. The greatest sin-gle asset of this or any other district is tis labor. If the earning power of Southern California can be marshalled back of the purchase of these securities the allotment can be easily taken and the prosperity of the entire district will be enhanced by the nation is the credit of its individuals. Banks are the expression of that credit; and it is through the banks of the Los Angeles Clearinghouse Association that the bonds for this district are being marketed. There are thousands of citizens who are clear to them how each individual credit can be utilized. It is not intended that these bonds shall be paid for in a single cash payment. If all the depositors in Los Angeles banks were to withdraw their mon-ey and invest it in Liberty Bonds the finan-cial shock would be greater than the dis-trict could withstand without seriously disrupting normal business conditions—at this is the very thing that is to be avoide What the government desires is negotiable credit, and the banks are the medium through which this credit can be extended. It is best that the bank funds shall not be ness community must rely upon the banks for liquid capital to be invested where le-gitimate opportunity offers, in order that the prosperity of the district may not be Liberty Bonds bear interest at the rate Liberty Bonds bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum. Every bank in the Los Angeles Clearinghouse Association is receiving subscriptions for these bonds on a deposit of one-tenth the face value of the bond required. Any person working for a salary in Los Angeles can go into any one of the seventeen banks in the association and accuracy. Althority Bond with sociation and secure a Liberty Bond with a par value of $100 by making a first payment of $10. The bank guarantees to the Federal government the full payment for the bond, and the purchaser secures his bond when he has made ten monthly pay-ments of $10 each, including his initial deposit. The bank charges him 4 per cent. on deferred payments and collects from the government and places to his credit the 4 per cent. Interest that the bond carries. The two interest accounts balance and he receives his bond at the end of nine months with no interest charge for deferred pay-ments. Under such terms practically every wage-earner in Los Angeles can afford to carry at least one of these Liberty Bonds it is highly desirable that bond buyers shall utilize their saving power in this way to purchase the bonds. This has been rec-ommended and indorsed by Secretary McAdoo and the financial experts of the ing and saving capacity of the country during the progress of the war. At the end of the last Liberty Bond campaign in Los Anin the history of the clearinghouse associa-Eminent banking experts have fi ured that when the Liberty Bonds are all will be increased in an amount equal to the face value of the bonds sold. This increase is made possible because the liquid credit of the country is expanded in that

If the normal prosperity of the Los Angeles district is not to be disturbed business must be conducted through processes; wealth must not be turned from its present employment, and the war must be financed out of normal operations. The directors of the Los Angeles Clearingho Association assert that this purpose can be be so distributed as to cover the earning and saving power of the labor in the district, as well as the capital investment

Every depositor who does not engage his earning and saving power in the purchase of a bond, but who uses money already saved, takes the money wholly away from the bank and out of local circulation. If the banks will be compelled to sell securities which they hold to call in loans and, possibly, foreclose mortgages. Securities thus dumped on the market cause prices to break and money is not available for legiti mate investment. It is highly to be desired that the bonds shall be marketed without such a disturbance of business; if this can be accomplished the government will be able to conduct the war to a successful conclusion without dissipating aught of the capital that the country accumulated prior

While the initial outlay is almost staggering to contemplate, it must be remem bered that it is an expenditure of credit.
THAT NOT ONE DOLLAR LEAVES THIS COUNTRY except what is actually necessary for the maintenance of our soldier and sailors on European soil, and that, in the end, the United States will be the greatest credit nation in the world. The purchase price of the bonds and the accrued interest will come back; the business veloped resources of the country will re-main; the savings accumulated through the purchase of the Liberty Bonds on installments will remain; the habits of fru gality developed in the mass of the Amertion of the American people in men, money and patriotism, to the cause of world de mocracy will remain a living monumen through all the ages that will follow.

Men and women of means should first provide for their honest debts and their reduced living expenses; then should fig-ure out their income tax and special war taxes (superimposed upon State and local taxation;) should remember the Red Cross and its claims upon them, and should squeeze our every Dollar possi-BLE for the Liberty Bonds. They are the best investment in the world from the same American point of view. If they are not good, nothing we may have is worth a bean.

A BOLISH THE SALOONS BY ORDI.

In the near future the taxpayers of Los Angeles must shoulder the burden of an other unnecessary initiative election unless the Council, by an eleventh-hour stroke, has Notwithstanding the fact that the Anti-Council can enact an ordinance abolishing the saloons, and it should do so.

The holding of a special election to de be lamentable if the citizens were obliged to foot the bill. The attitude of the people upon the saloon evil is no longer in d Even the saloonist knows that public sen timent is against his business and he is

It is the desire of every sensible Coun cilman to do that which a majority of the citizens favor. If there were any question as to the attitude of the people then there would be a reasonable excuse for the Council to refuse to tackle the problem, but there is not, and as a matter of economy the special election should be obviated.

Of course this unusual situation would not be confronting the Council if the citi zens of California were not cursed with that trio of foolish devices, the initiative referendum and recall. There is absolutely no merit in any of them, but the mor vicious of all is the initiative, an abortion due to the wiles of unscrupulous and designing politicians.

Obviously the purpose of the initiative is to thrust upon the people something the majority do not want. This community, as all others, has enough regular election to satisfy the normal citizen, and the situa-tion must be most acute indeed to warran the calling of special elections. Since the initiative law has been in effect there has not been a single special election that could not have been just as well delayed until date set by the election statutes. To call an initiative election requires signatures totalling 15 cent. of the ballots cast at the last general election. As a result any clique can compel the Council set a date for an election, the average cost of which in Los Angeles is $40,000, by merely securing the signatures of 15,000

Everyone knows now easy it is to get signatures. A professional circulator could secure signatures in Los Angeles or any other community upon a petition for ing any known politician. People do not as a rule read the petitions. Some of them feel complimented when approached by a circulator. The illiterate floaters on the streets are happy over the fact that some one gives them credit for having learned They don't have to know the merits of the petition and don't care to know. What a farce it all is!

Now that a special election must be called eventually certified to the Council by the City Clerk as bearing a sufficient number of signatures, the Council has but one alternative. It can enact an ordinance and prevent the needless election. Will it do so?

The City Clerk estimates the cost of the election at about $40,000. In addition to this expense the people must dig up more than $125,000, representing the taxes that would be paid by the saloonists between April 1 and June 30, the end of the fiscal

MEATLESS DAYS IN 1777. Wheatless days and meatless days and even eatless days are not uncommon hardships of war. Even among the soldiers ary contest there were deprivations. A of Gen. Gage the following:

"Three weeks-ye gods! hay, three long years it seems Since roast meat I have touched except in dreams."

And when the meatless days of Gen. Gage were over his exploits at dinner were de-scribed by Robert Burns as follows:

"WI sword an gurn he thought a sin Guid Christian blood to draw. man; But at New York, wi' knife an' fork, Sir-loin he hacke' sma' man." At Valley Forge for days at a time ther would be no meat for either officers or men. Says Herdman's History: "They kept life in their bodies by eating porridge made of flour paste or a lump of dough baked in the embers. This diet was varied by 'soaked wheat and sugar' or soup thick-ened with bread. The making of soup out stock was taken as a grim joke by the soldiers. There is a story told of a well-meaning officer who asked a group of men what they were cooking in their kettle. 'A stone, colonel,' was the answer; 'they say there is some strength in stones if you can get it out."

There was a scarcity of clothing as well as food. Officers mounted guard dressed in old rugs or woolen bed quilts and kept what remained of their uniforms for the time when they would have to meet the enemy. Months after the worst of suffering of that dreadful winter was over party of aides-de-camp gave a supper at was admitted; and the room was crowded with distinguished guests!

The Pomerene committee might have been saved a lot of trouble if the Senate committee had taken the La Follette bull by the horns and thrown it over the fence by the necessary two-thirds vote. During the war Clement Laird Vallandingham was sent across the line to Canada by President Lincoln, but Canada is our ally in the pres ent war and would likely object to being made the dumping ground for American undesirables.

A lot of misery might be avoided in this world if the prospective bride would look into the rating book before promising to love, honor and obey. Love in a cottage is all right as an abstract proposition, but in these days it is necessary to have some thing to bring home the bacon.

The investigation discloses that many of the alleged German spies were only bunco performers willing to take the money of anybody who was in a position to furnish it. No doubt the German government burned up millions of dollars in this way.

When making the trip to American Lake to see the boys take your overcoats along. It is not a summer resort. ABOLISH JURY TRIALS. BY TOM FITCH.

I dare say I may be called by many of the readers of this article a dreamer and an iconoclast and maybe a damphool, but I declare nevertheless that I am in favor of sbolition of trial by jury, or rather of having a jury composed of judges instead of men who don't know the plaintiff from the defendant or a syllogism from a hole in the ground. Our present jury system is, in my opinion, as much a relic of barbar ism as slavery or polygamy. It is ism as slavery or polygamy. It is no more fitted to the wants and enlightenment of the age than the canal boat for traveling or the fint lock musket for pigeon shooting. Suppose a suit is brought to recover a piece of land from a jumper and one side or the other demands a jury trial. Every good citizen who is busy shirks duty as a juryman, while some men who are secretly in the interest of the plaintiff or the defendant place themselves in the way of being called as jurymen. The intelligent citizen who reads the newspapers forms an opinmen. The intelligent citizen who reads the newspapers forms an opin ion and is excused. From the resi ion and is excused. From the residue—which is apt to contain a percentage of fools and rnaves—you get twelve clerks, mechanics, merchants, farmers and idlers, none of whom have any training in untangling complicated propositions, weighing evidence, remembering principles of law and logic and according to each fact its just and relative importance.

After these twelve men have listened to a muddle of testimony, objections, law papers and speeches, concluding with bewildering instructions which half of them fail to remember and the other half fail to member and the other half fail to member and the other half fail to understand, they retire to the jury-room and guess out a verdict. The losing party applies for a new trial and, if he fails to get it, appeals and, after wearisome delay, the Appellate Court decides that "someone has blundered" and, without atempting to correct the error by a proper judgment, sends the case back for another trial, another batch blunders and another appeal.

proper judgment, sends the case back for another trial, another batch of blunders and another appeal.

Why not place the Supreme Court in the jury box at the start? Provide for a preliminary court of three judges in each judicial district. Require every plaintiff to present his case informally to this court. Require him to state on oath the facts he expects to prove and give the names of his witnesses. Any wilful misstatement of a materials fact to constitute perjury. If the evidence stated would, if uncontradicted, enable him to recover, let an order be issued by the preliminary court giving him leave to sue. A good many proposed suits would not survive this ordeal. Under the present system, after a jury has been impaneled and days consumed, the plaintiff may, after all, be nonsuited. Under the plan suggested, the proposed case might righteously be compelled to "die a bornin," and blackmailing litigation would be discouraged.

This principle of preliminary investigation is in use in criminal cases. A man accused of an offense is examined before a magistrate and, if the evidence would not, if uncontradicted, warrant his conviction, he is discharged without being subjected to an indictment and the cost and annoyance of a jury trial.

If leave to cue is granted by the preliminary court the case could be brought under the same rules of procedure as now. A sufficient number of judicial districts should be created to handle the business with, say, nine judges for each district. These courts should be the only created to handle the business with, say, nine judges for each district. These courts should be the only courts. Upon questions of law arising in the trial the judges should pass by a majority vote and, in making the final decision from which there would be no appeal, seven judges might be required to concur. What honest litigant would not prefer to have his rights determined by nine many who were trained to sift by nine men who were trained to sift truth from error, who were honest and just and without other duties and just and without other duties to distract them, rather than by twelve men such as ordinarily find their way into the jury box? The judgment of seven out of nine of such judges would be as nearly right as human conclusions can well be, and people affected by it would be and people affected by it would be better satisfied, even when they should lose, than by the guess of a stupid and sleepy jury.

Under such a system no time would be lost in procuring juries and very little time in objections to testimony. Argaments would be abbreviated and instructions eliminated. Court expenses would be lessened and the cost of litigants reduced.

I know that in order to establish such a system the State Constitu-tion would have to be amended. Well, let it be amended. If the voters of California could abolish popular vote they need not hesitate to experiment in jurisprudence.

Friend Hoover: Excuse me for pentioning it, but it does seem awfully hard for me to make my appetite fit my country. Some time ago I got a postal card from my government suggesting that I feed my face less beef and veal and more fish. It would not only ease certain problems of food distribution, but would be to my physical advantage. show on the scales-or words to that mine.

As a rule, when it comes to the fish course, I do not crave coarse fish. I rather prefer sand dabs, rainbow trout, filet of sole or young rainbow trout, filet of sole or young-catish. They are not so hard to shred as some other specimens wrested from the deep. I had this in mind yesterday when I went to my dealer for my provender. In a glass case he had some nice-looking sand dabs. They were resting on a mound of ice, festooned with green-ery, and were right appetizing in appearance. I started to order a set, but first casually inquired the price. "Thirty-five cents a pound" ex-claimed the dealer, smilingly. You see Shakespeare was right when he said that a man could smile and be a villain still. Usually I when he said that a man could smile and be a villain still. Usually I have been able to get all the sand dabs I could possibly pay for at about fifteen cents a ppund, and on occasions I have been able to corral a few messes at the rate of a dime. Twenty cents was always a stiff figure for selects.

Yet my dealer now blandly pro-posed to bump me for 35 cents and seemed to be conferring a favor by letting me have them.

"You see, these are fresh Catali-nas," he explained.

If a sand dab can swim to Catalina he doubles in price. Coronado sand dabs would probably be worth about

But it takes a trained appetite to tell the difference between sand dabs raised on opposite sides of a channel.

The dealer had some especially attractive filet of sole in the case. It, too, was nicely iced and garnished and looked white and whole some. "How much?" I inquired.

"Fifty cents a pound:" answered the dealer, suavely.

"For the love of Mike!" exclaimed I. "Have the fish quit biting since the Kaiser went wild? I can re-

"Ah! that is it," interrupted the "An! that is it," interrupted the fish man. "These flets are the genuine. Formerly they were not so particular and other fish were sometimes sold for sole."

"Soleless sole, sold by a soloist without a soul!" exclaimed I, soulfully

The dealer was puzzled.

"I'll tell you what we'll do," returned I. "You just lock your sole up in the safe while I go across the street and get a can of pork and beans. Then I am going home and gorge myself and then write my friend Hoover all about it.

But it is the way of fish as of all flesh. They fix it up attractively, garnish it gracefully—and double the price. And yet they are showing pictures of men standing waist-deep in their catch on the fishing smacks in the harbor. The canneries are unable to handle it all, and huadreds of tons of marketable fish go to the fertilizers every week. The trouble is we are a nation of

But as it stands today I do not see where I can put any money in the bank by switching from beef to fish. If I had my own exclusive ocean and a few hundred dollars' worth of fishing tools I might be able to do something, but as it is the crop of middlemen get In their usual hellish work.

Dr. Herthum came here recently from Seattle where he was engaged in social service work. He was one of the principal workers in the campaign against vice which was started by Mayor John F. Miller.

measure, L. A. Raleigh, a real estate agent, was arrested in Oakland yesterday on a charge of operating as a realty agent and broker without a license, in direct violation of the ; ecently-enacted realty broker's license law, according to advices received here.

Members of the San Francisco Independent Realty Association have been endeavoring to secure the arrest of a realty man in that vicinity for some time on a charge of violating the measure, so that a test case might be made, but the officials have been loathe to act. However, after flagrant violations of the law had been made by Raleigh, he was arrested.

He will be brought before the Police Court in Oakland some time next week, and will plead not guilty and attempt to secure his liberty through filing a writ of habeas corpus with the Supreme Court, attacking the constitutionality of the measure, according to Fred W. Fry, attorney for the northern association, who is defending Raleigh.

The attack against the measure will be made through, the charge that it is class legislation, and sets up a power of dictatorship by making the one real estate commissioner the sole judge and authority of matters concerning realty men.

According to F. W. Wilson, seeretary of the Los Angeles Realty organization, composed of over 200 Los Angeles real estate men, a lawyer and a banker are not subject to the provisions of the law, while any other person who accepts a commission for selling or trading any piece of property without first paying a Heense to the State out fout first paying a Heense to the State claims to be a characteristic also known as John Valoff, was arfested yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Sepulveda and Rayes for Bakersfield authorities, for alleged evasion of the draft law.

The man was arrested at No. 156 South Clarence street, which property, it is said, he owns. His father lives in the rear upon a lot said to be assessed in his name.

The deputy sheriffs profess their inability to understand how Doorsoff can be placed in the category of a slacker because of his age. They also wonder how the Bakersfield authorities assume jurisdiction, as the man has made Los Angeles his home for six years.

Doorsoff is the father of seven children. The oldest, a daughter, is a few months more than 2 years. The man was arrested upon telegraphic instructions from Speriff D. B. Newell. He was placed in the County Jail.

lice Judge White that the police department is spending city funds for the services of stool pigeons in luring women into houses of questionable reputation. The committee informed the magistrate that when he closed his case last Monday no evidence had been submitted in support of the charge.

Justice White said he had taken it for granted that the committee merely wanted evidence to show that money was spent for the services of outside operatives.

"This committee does not care what evidence you submit," said Councilman Mailard. "You made the charge that money was being spent to induce women to enter houses of ill repute. You have presented no evidence to support that charge. You did show that money was sent for the services of men in assisting the Metropolitan Squad in getting into such houses and so far as I am concerned I want it understood that I take no exceptions to such practice. It no doubt is necessary.

to such practice. It no doubt is necessary.

"I can see no difference in paying a regular police officer to run down violators of the law and hiring outside men. What the police should strive to do is to capture criminals and if it is necessary to employ an outside man there can be no objection to it. Of course, I am opposed to the spending of money for the services of a man who would sure a woman into a bad house. Everybody opposes that. Since you have failed to establish that this is done. I cannot see much to the case."

Justice White said he would preduce a witness to prove the charge and the case was continued until next Monday affernoon. The police judge asserted that he had prepared an erdinance which would make it a violation of law for any person to attempt to induce a woman to go astray. "If the Council will not pass the ordinance I will see that it gets on the ballot and I am sure it will be adopted by a tremendous majority," the judge said.

county's Board of Supervisors today subscribed for $25,000 of the second Liberty Loan. This subscription will be paid for out of the county treasury.

Edward Eastman had no sooner arrived in this world this morning than a Liberty Bond was ordered for him. A. E. Commeford, one of the solicitors for the loan, rang the bell at No. 422 West Pine street. A man came to the door and excitedly declared that he had no time to talk. "A boy has just been born here," declared he.

"Congratulations," maid Mr. Commeford, "buy him a Liberty Bond."

The happy father, W. Eastman, paused not a second. "All right," he said. "His name is Edward." It was a $50 bond.

DECLARES FARMERS

"The farmer has been pampered by politicians until he seems to feel he is in a preferred class, and, as I said, he doesn't care to buy Liberty Bonds, he doesn't want to fight and he avoids his income tax. It is about time the farmer should appreciate his position in the country and help do his part in a war as much for his benefit as for those who are putting up the money and doing the fighting for him."

Easier money conditions, possibly temporary, are beginning to be noted at the banks.
